

Certificate in Climate Justice and Faith

Applications
Due June 15th

THIS CERTIFICATE OFFERS

A cohort-based, online, trans-continental curriculum which empowers participants to cultivate moral, spiritual, and practical power for leadership in the work of climate justice in communities of faith and in collaboration with others. Topics covered include theology, ethics, and spirituality related to climate justice; climate change knowledge; and social change practices that connect ecological well-being with racial, economic, and gender justice. Six Continuing Education Credits are offered upon completion.

EXPECTATIONS

- 2-4 Hours of weekly Independent work
- 2 hours of monthly virtual cohort meetings
- Participation and collaboration with local initiatives, congregations, and/or groups to ensure context-based practice of concepts learned in class
- Willingness to take on the work of climate justice as a spiritual practice within sphere of influence
- Proficiency in English and access to reliable internet connection

THIS PROGRAM IS FOR

Anyone who is interested in learning about and acting on faith-based climate justice initiatives within their context – and who wants to explore spiritual grounding for that work – will benefit from this accessible opportunity. This non-degree learning program is 100% online via virtual live cohort sessions and interactive digital learning platforms. We especially encourage applicants from populations most affected by climate change and from member churches of the Lutheran World Federation (LWF).

CONTACT

Phoebe Morad pmorad@plts.edu

TUITION

$600, scholarships up to $550 available

SCHEDULE

Two 15-week semesters beginning mid-September and ending early May www.centerforclimatejusticeandfaith.org

